Direct Archdiocesan District Spelling Bee Competition (December 14, 2010)

NAMES OF CONTESTANTS

Organized by the Direct Archdiocesan District Office of Education, this year's Spelling Bee Competition among the students of the NYC Greek Orthodox parochial day schools took place on December 14, 2010, at the Archdiocesan headquarters.

Morgan Raum, an eighth-grade student of The Cathedral School, won the first place and Garima Vohra, a seventh-grade student of the Jamaica Day School, Jamaica, came second. Both will compete, in May, in the New York City Finals sponsored by the newspaper DAILY NEWS.

The names of the other contestants are as follows:

Aponte, Destevon	St. Spyridon Parochial School, New York City
Armatas, Evangelos	School of the Transfiguration, Corona
Banagos, Constantinos	D.G.K Parochial School of Holy Cross, Brooklyn
Koutsidis, Demetrios	A. Fantis Parochial School, Brooklyn
Letsios, Eleftherios	"W. Spyropoulos" Greek-American School, Flushing
Matassa, Nicole	Greek-American Institute, Bronx
Siozios, Panagiotis	St. Demetrios Greek-American School, Astoria

His Eminence Archbishop Demetrios of America presented all contestants with a Certificate and one copy of the Merriam Webster's Collegiate Dictionary.

Mr. Nick Katsoris, Esq., president and founder of the Hellenic Times Scholarship Fund, offered $100 to each contestant and $500 to the first-place winner.