Marriage Stability

“...you must have at least five times as many positive as negative moments together if your marriage is to be stable.”

(John Gottman, in Why Marriages Succeed or Fail)

Discuss with one another 5 positive moments in your marriage in the last week and what each of you can do to build on them. Then, discuss 1 negative moment and what responsibility each of you had for that negative moment.