A Priceless Christmas Gift for My Spouse

Consider giving the following gift to your spouse this Christmas: Write a love letter to your spouse, stating what you love and appreciate most about him/her.

The rest is up to you--how/when you will give him/her the letter; the form of the letter (hand-written/typed, card/paper, style of writing, etc.); if you have children, whether you will share the letter with them or keep the letter private between the two of you, . . .
